APIA. May 17 (via Auckland, N. N. Ellot, C. B., of the British embassy at Washington, representing Great Britain) arrived here on May 13. Its first sitting took place May 16. The commissioners were engaged all that morning in conferring with the chief justice, William L. Chambers. by a correspondent of the Assocaited Press, Mataafa said it was the head chiefs and not himself who began the war, adding that they did so because they were angered at power being taken from them by violence and also because they were made angry by the chief justice's "unjust decision." Mataafa claimed he had upheld the treaty and said his orders throughout were not to fire upon the Europeans and that but for this order the whole party of blue jackets

DEMOCRATS WANT KILBOURNE.

With McLean's Aid He Can Get Nomination for Governor.

Special Disputch to The Evening Star. CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 25 .- John R. McLean is making the strongest kind of an effort to control the state democratic convention. His agents are at work everywhere. They are passing around the word from McLean that the delegates should be uninstructed. If McLean should take up Col. Kilbourne of Columbus the latter would win easily. If they conflict, the contest may take on a resemblance to the present friendly rivalry among the republican candidates Col. James Kilbourne is the first of the candidates in the field with a strong or-ganization, and he will get much of the early crop of delegates. One thing certain is that Kilbourne is going to beat Lentz by a big majority in Franklin county. The lines of the contest will not be definitely formed until it is learned whether Senator Hanna or his foes controlled the republican convention and whether "Golden Rule Jones would run on an independent ticket. When those problems have been solved the District Attorney Beck asked that May 20 be set as the date of the trial, but counsel for Inglam and Newitt asked permission to file an application for continuance, on the ground of illness of one of his clients. His application was received. WOULD CHANGE IOWA'S VOTE.

Mistake in Revised Statutes Regarding Presidential Electors.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 25.-By a remarkable accident the discovery has been made that the legislature in 1897 in revising the Iowa code unintentionally provided that hereafter presidential electors shall be chosen by the congressional districts instead of by the state at large. The political economy class at Simpson College, Indianola, in studying the method of electing presidential electors found that the revised statutes provide that each congressional district shall elect one and the state as a whole shall elect the others at large. The law as it stands would probably give the democratic party two and perhaps three electors in the presidential election of 1900. The next legislature will undoubt-

Gen. Henry Talks About the Porto Rican People.

SOME OF TODAY'S CALLERS

President McKinley has positively decidd to go as far west this summer as St. Paul, but whether he will go en to the Yellowstone Park and the coast must depend upon circumstances such that it is now impossible to make a decision. Nor is the date of his visit to St. Paul yet desided. He intends to be there at the time he 13th Minnesota, the South Dakota and other regiments arrive on their return from the Philippines, when a great reception will be accorded them.

The President's tour to New England will be made as quiet as possible. Ephraim B. Stillings of Boston was at the White House this morning with Gen. Wheeler, who is to deliver the memorial day address in the Boston Theater before the Edward W. Kingsley Post, No. 113, G. A. R. It was for the purpose of making complete arrangements for Gen. Wheeler's reception in Boston that Mr. Stillings came on. In speaking of his visit, Mr. Stillings said: "I have had a delightful time with Gen. Wheeler. He has taken me to see Secretaries Alger and Long and the President, and by his courtesy I have been invited to view the parade this afternoon from the President's reviewing stand. I have come here to assure Gen. Wheeler that his reception in Boston will be most cordial. He will leave here Friday night, staying till Saturday or Sunday in New York. His three daughters will accompany him."

Nash, who is Senator Hanna's prime favorite or some one equally acceptable whose nomination would offer conditions of party harmony which that of Judge Nash could not give. There is no doubt that Senator Hanna could force the nomination of Judge Nash if he cared to offend certain elements of the party to whom it may be objectionable.

From movements of friends of Senator Hanna in Scioto, Wood and Knox counties it seems likely that if Nash is dropped by the senator it will be to take up Albert Douglass of Ross county. Douglass has all-ways been a warm friend of Government. "Not much. I hardly know just what I shall

Gen. Guy V. Henry, governor general of Porto Rico up to a few weeks ago, is in Washington and paid his respects to President McKinley this morning. He did not remain in conference with the President, as his reports at various times have given his official views of the island and the people Fo a representative of The Star General Henry said that he considered Porto Rico a splendid island, and that he has the greatest respect for the people. "The Porto Ricans are fast becoming Americanized, said General Henry. "They are really proud of their new country and are doing all they can to prepare for citizenship all they can to prepare for chizenship.

They are willing and desirous to become good citizens. They are studying our language and as fast as possible are adapting themselves to our ways. I do not believe and Wednesday, and there was consequently a universal confidence felt that the culmination of the festival would be fitting in every direction. This satisfaction was heightened by the superb weather. Another perfect day was ushered in, more superb possibly than its predecessor, for the sun of yesterday had banished all dampness and meisture. There was no diminution in the crowds, out, on the other hand, there was a very evident increase in the number of strangers who came in on trains and beats to swell the throngs already in evidence. The public buildings and other places of interest were attractive points for thousands, and the parks and reservations were filled with premenaders, enjoying the bracing air and resting preparatory to seeking vantage places whence to view the historical pageant. From the earliest hours all was bustle at he Den, as the old McCullough building at 14th and W streets will be always known hereafter. For weeks the preparations for the closing parade of the jubilee had been industriously carried on there. Artists and artisans were busy putting the final strokes upon the novel scheme, and the ladies and gentlemen who were to impersonate the cratic committee to June 12, at the Jefferson Hotel. At this time the petition for a state conference to nominate a United States senator will be considered.

The Nation's History. The historical pageant, with its glistening and gayly colored symbolic floats, picturing the incidents of American history from the time of the appearance of Columbus before the court of Spain in explanation of his theory of the new world up to the peace that followed the Spanish-American conflict, moved from the "jubilee den," 14th and W streets northwest, shortly after 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, leading down 14th to U street, thence to 16th, to K street, to 18th street, to Pennsylvania avenue and through the court of honor, where the President stood to review it. The pageant was the most spectacular of the jubilee. The plans for the consummation of the scheme were carried out on a splendid scale, and the display was claborate in every detail. The fleats, each drawn by six carefully selected horses, were modeled and painted according to designs prepared after much study, the intention being that all should correctly represent historical facts, or allegerically pleture conditions that have been brought about in the

After passing through the court of honor and being reviewed by Mr. McKinley the pageant continued down Pennsylvania avenue, where there were dense crowds on either side of the wide thoroughfare. On to the Peace monument the line of floats and horsmen continued, greeted with the plaudits of the admiring thousands who looked on. Arriving at the foot of Capitol Hill there was a counter maneuver, and the procession returned up Pennsylvania avenue in a westerly direction as far as 7th street, then up that thoroughfare to street, down F street to 14th street, to H street, to 15th street, to K street, to 14th street and back again to the starting point at 14th and W streets, where a disbandment was ordered
